Hear Ye...Hear Ye! Come One...Come All!

Another year has passed as we gather once again to celebrate India Fest. We have grown older, and perhaps a little wiser. For India Fest, what began as a low-key get together has now evolved into one of the most anticipated fall events in the mid-south. From its infancy in the early 2000s, where it began with a crowd of over 100 to now over 10,000, the fest has been creating memories for people, young and old. Echoing the importance of community involvement as a driving factor, India Fest is where music, art, dance and storytelling enlightens and entertains us about India; and this year we are paving way for its 'Sweet 16'!

So grab the opportunity and ready thyself to step back in time to pretend you've landed into "Game of Thrones". As the festive air engulfs, drums will be beaten, knights on horseback will rise, and feet tapped to Indian music.

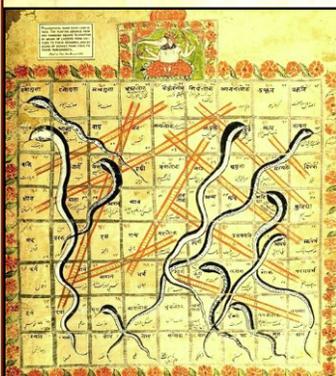

Experience the splendor of the ancient era and for a day, history will come alive with non-stop, day long entertainment, games, arts and crafts, feasting and much more! Hop from state to state, while discovering and rejoicing a multitude of customs and tales. Shop the bazaar with a surge of hues and colors that represents all things Indian. The cauldron of talent in our community never ceases to amaze one, and it often feels like the event is equally shaped by the power of its participants. The cultural potpourri will also extend its diversity to food. One could probably spend a day walking from stall to stall, get well fed and happily inebriated in the process. The day itinerary is jam packed, and however little time you feel like spending, do make in some time to try out some new Indian dishes.

With much anticipation, we look forward to welcoming your shining faces to the Fest. We ask that at the gates you take a deep breath and allow yourself to take in the moment to recognize your oneness with it all. Be intrigued and inspired and captivated. Remember, India Fest is for you, me and for anyone and everyone.

Soon, another year will pass us where there will be no rewinds but just flashbacks and this souvenir magazine will help exemplify the nostalgic feeling many years down the lane as you leaf through its old dusty pages. As for me? Yes, I am back again this year, doing another stint with India Fest. Thanks for having me, we'll meet again!

P.S. Fact or Fiction? I have included Tidbits of Known and Little-Known facts about ancient India. Enjoy reading!

Did you know ?

Chess came from ancient India. But it's a less known fact that "Snakes and ladders" board game was also created there. Mokshapat, as it was originally called, was played as early as 2nd century BC.

MESSAGE FROM LEADERSHIP

Anil Nair & Manjit Kaur

Welcome to India Fest 2018 !

Since the very beginning of India Fest, it has always been a point of honor to showcase our amazing culture and heritage to the people of Greater Memphis. As they say, we take in what we see and what we hear and a little perspective into a new culture goes a long way. At India Fest, we provide the Memphian community a chance to marvel the rich tapestry of Indian culture and traditions and understand our way of life. We are dedicating this souvenir to the people of Memphis that has allowed so many different cultures to thrive and coexists.

This year the theme of the fest is "Ancient History & Culture". We are thrilled to transport our audience back to the Ancient age with whimsical décor where we display the ancient royal court, the spice trade, Ayurveda the ancient art of holistic healing and Kohinoor diamond. Walk through a journey in India, savor ethnic cuisines prepared by local Indian community, shop Indian jewelry and apparels, and plunge into hands on activities in the youth corner. Top it all with the mesmerizing performances showcasing art forms of India. Like previous years, we continue our drive to give back to the community by feeding the hungry by supporting Mid South food bank through free entry for kids with food can donations.

Kudos to all the regional Indian Associations that get together under one roof playing the role of host and promoting the brand 'Indians' to the local Memphian community. It has been incredibly gratifying to witness this and we thank you for supporting the fest. Our special thanks go to our loyal sponsors especially FedEx, SunTrust, Syntel, Mphasis, AutoZone, HCL, TCS, Regional One Health, International Paper, and ServiceMaster for supporting the festival over the last several years. We are also humbled by great participation from vendors, city officials, community leaders, local businesses, schools and charitable organizations. Lastly, we celebrate and congratulate the extraordinary group of talented volunteers for the arduous amount of work and the hours they put in towards this event. We also appreciate their spouses and children for letting them dedicate their personal time above and beyond their hectic life.

On an ending note, we would like to put out a call to action for anyone in our community who wants to join the team next year. We believe that this Fest has so much untapped potential and room to grow. We need sponsors, planners, dreamers & doers. Your ideas matter, opinions matter and knowledge matters. Together, we can and continue to provide a family-friendly entertainment in the heart of Memphis.

We thank you for coming and sharing part of your day with us!

Anil Nair & Manjit Kaur

One Big Day. One Big Event. One Big Thanks!

Year in. Year out. A large part of what makes our biggest event of the year so successful is our sponsors. Being a non-profit, all-volunteer organization, we rely on the support and generosity of our sponsor family. Thanks to their support, we have been able to provide you with more experiences that make India Fest so special. We are grateful that they made room in their hearts and budgets to help us secure a place for India Fest. Please do show your appreciation and support our sponsor family in the community. They're working hard to continue to push Memphis as a world-class destination. Thanks for all the love!

INDIA FEST 2017

MESSAGE FROM IAM CHAIRPERSON

Namaskar! It is always a pleasant surprise when hordes of volunteers materialize once the initial planning for India Fest commences. Indeed, all it takes is usually one email, and several people appear at the appointed place, months before the actual festival, willing to work, and work hard. These are the same people who turn up, unfailingly, year after year, and toil unceasingly, volunteering their time and effort. After five years of running the festival in various capacities (and being entrusted by the trustees this year), and almost ten years of being involved, I have learned a lot, and believe me, this is a pretty big deal. On behalf of India Association of Memphis, I take this opportunity to thank each and every member of team and the board of trustees for their tremendous support. There is intense behind-the-scenes activity going on even though you would never suspect it from the way the annual festival runs as though on greased bearings. It is all made possible by a dedicated team of volunteers, and I owe those individuals a gigantic vote of thanks. I am reminded of a quote from Helen Keller, "Alone we can do so little, together we can do so much."

I was at Johnson Park in Collierville the other day. The weather was wonderful, a mild chill in the air, the sky still blue with occasional wispy clouds. A pleasantly scented breeze ruffled my hair. On the lake, several ducks swam serenely. Every year, the day of India Fest reminds me powerfully of those ducks, swimming in the lake with apparent effortless ease, not a care in the world. At least that is the image we present to the world with impeccable décor, well laid out vendor stalls, delicious food and well-organized activities, not to mention the piece de resistance - the variety show in the auditorium. Below the water though, the ducks are paddling like mad; the effortless merely an outward appearance, the nonchalance a show. Those ducks are us, the leadership team, the operations team, youth committee, the marketing team & the media team, the cultural team, the décor team, all of us working endless hours in the run up to the big event, and delivering a perfect product each time.

This year, we celebrate the 16th India Fest and I can already feel the suppressed excitement, the anticipation of the gathering, the thrum of blood in the veins even as the season changes. This year's theme is "Ancient History and Culture," one that defines the rich and diverse culture of India, exhibits the traditions of the different states, and the variety of their cuisines. There will also be educational opportunities for kids in the Youth Village through several interactive activities (apologies in advance; what kid wants to do educational stuff at a fair anyway? But I promise it will be fun!), a plethora of mesmerizing Indian cultural performances, and a whole lot more. I take this opportunity to thank our corporate sponsors for supporting the festival over the last several years. I am grateful to all city officials, community leaders and local businesses for their incredible support.

Last, but not least, thanks to my kids Nikita and Rohan, and my husband Sri for being so patient. Staying away from home during the preparation of India fest, at times they would show their unhappiness for not being there for them, especially during the evenings but in the end, I guess they realize it's worth the effort.

Once again, Welcome aboard! Come with your family and friends and enjoy the fest. Take home some lovely memories of this festival and do share your experience on Memphis India Fest Facebook page. See you at the India Fest on November 3rd!!

Making of India fest 2018

Ah, the final days before you step into the magical realm of India fest day. The frantic arrangements, the meticulous planning and scheduling. Too much? If you've ever tried to organize a party at home or a birthday party that caters to the needs of a few dozen people or even a few hundred people, you can imagine the amount of effort and consideration it takes to cater for over 10,000 people and try to meet expectations, needs and requests of over 500 performers and over 50 vendors. It is a herculean task that cannot be adequately explained to anyone who has not worked on the inside.

As we trace the behind-the-scenes madness that culminates into a successful fest, you might appreciate the tiny, seemingly insignificant details that one has to consider when creating an event of such proportion. After you read through, you might begin to understand that there is some degree of selflessness involved in order to make this event possible. Along the way, someone has to lose their sleep over finalizing the contracts, someone has to make that effort to negotiate with the rental contractors to save some money here and there, someone has to attend those long phone calls trying to understand and work out multiple vendor's request. These are the people making sure that you have an engaging experience! These are the people treating and welcoming over 10,000 people to a world of Indian Culture. So, who are these people that made this year's fest possible?

A team of very familiar and motivated folks are organizing this for you, along side their full-time jobs, family life, and the rest! With a great deal of planning, not to mention time, effort and manpower, this crew is all in with forward thinking and backward planning. As details get finalized just prior to kicking off the fest, there's a lot of list checking, a lot of phone calling and a lot of hair pulling. Many of these will be seen installing booths, overseeing bazaar and food area, providing information and manning the command center, setting up stage & audio, working with technicians, following up with teams, lining them up for their performances, making sure VIP's are well taken care of, making sure younger kids have fun in the Youth corner and much more. The dude you see helping out as volunteer in one area - may also be seen performing on stage. Many of them are participants, choreographers, chefs, and leads; they are our crew wearing multiple hats. It's a wonder the festival team even has time for family. In the last couple of days, these friendly bunch just hold on for dear life expecting it to be crazy ride with lots of speed bumps, last minute change of plans and anything else in between. So why do this? Partying may be more fun but then where else can you make new friends, new perspectives, new ideas. India fest is the place where all these things bloom like spring flowers on steroids.

Be sure to say a "Hello" if you run into them and give a smile or a hug to make their day!

festival decor concept

The glory of India is retained by its majestic palaces, forts and monuments. The vibrant culture and rich heritage draws innumerable tourists from across the globe. Our décor concept this year is centered on the theme "Ancient History & Culture". With a wide, yet complex topic, the creative team chose to share it in stages. To amaze you, team will showcase a Royal Durbar and give a glimpse of how a Royal Court would look in ancient India. Durbar was the term used for the place where Kings had their formal and informal meetings. Great Emperors and Kings have palaces with magnificent halls that are lavishly decorated with the best possible materials available at the time. There will be a huge throne as the centerpiece, king, queen, ministers, and war horses, all beautifully decorated.

Team will also focus on how the Spice trade started in India, and a booth showcasing Ayurveda, one of the world's holistic healing systems developed about 3,000 years ago in India. There will be a decor booth displaying ancient history of Gem stones (Koh-i-Noor, one of the largest cut diamond of the world, now part of the British Crown jewels), temple architecture and about Buddhism (world's 4th largest religion attributed to the teachings of Buddha).

Sharing the rich history of ancient India, many regional associations affiliated with India Association of Memphis will also bring in history décor from their respective states to the "HALLWAY OF ANCIENT INDIA". Please take time to read the information plaques displayed along the hallway as we make an humble attempt to acquaint you with the Ancient Indian History & Culture. Hope you find it informative & entertaining!

Moong Dal Chakali (Murukku)

- By Veena Gujjar

Moong Dal Chakli, also known as murukku, is a popular snack all throughout India. It is a crispy and delicious snack that can be prepared for festival or for an evening snack.

Ingredients:

- Rice Flour - 4 cups (Note: cup = 160 ml)
- Moong Dal - 1 cup
- Jeera seeds - 1 tsp
- Sesame seeds - 1 tsp
- Chilli Powder - 1 tsp
- Unsalted butter - 4 tbsp
- Salt - as per taste
- Water - 3/4 cup

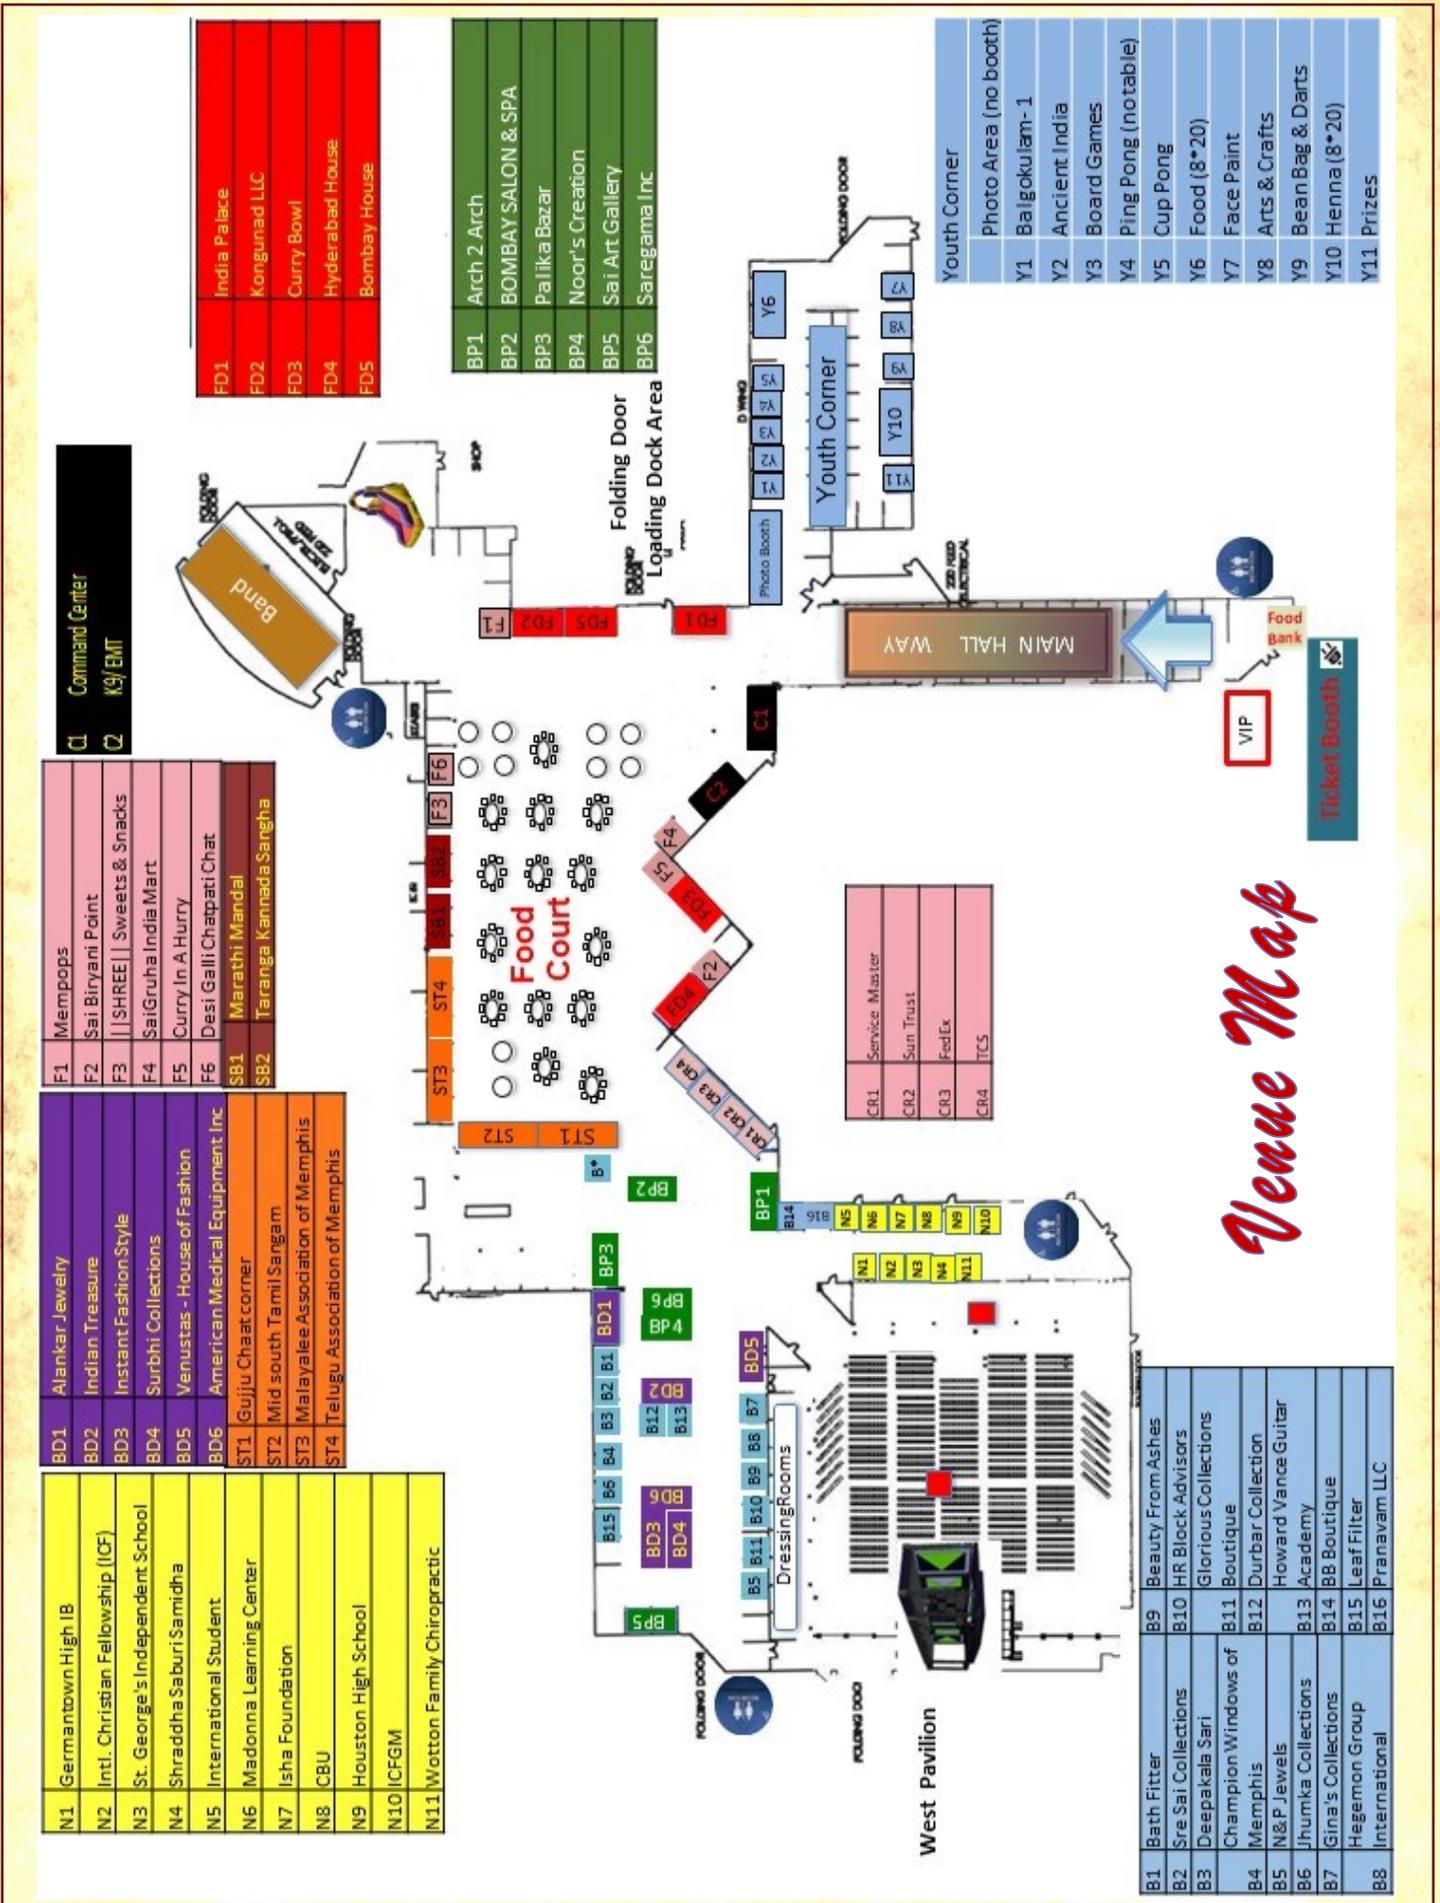

Directions:

1. Cook the Moong dal with water in cooker. When done, grind the moong dal into paste.
2. Steam the rice flour (without water)
3. Melt unsalted butter
4. Mix items listed in steps 1 through 3 with Jeera, Salt, Chilli powder and sesame seeds.
5. Add little water to items listed step 4 and mix it into chapathi dough consistency.
6. Put the dough ball in the chakali mold and make chakali on a tray or paper.
7. Heat oil in a pan and deep fry the prepared chakli until golden brown. Fry all chakli in small batches.
8. Serve the snack when its warm or cold. Store it in a airtight container.

-By Haseena Gilani

Bring the authentic flavors of Indian food right inside your kitchen with this delicious and easy mutton kheema recipe. It tastes delicious with just about any Indian bread.

Ingredients:

- 2 lbs Kheema (Minced mutton)
- 2 Big Onions - Chopped
- Curry Leaves
- 10 Green Chillies
- 3 Medium Tomatoes - chopped
- Coriander Powder - 2 tsp
- Chilli Powder - 1 tsp
- Cumin powder - 1 tsp
- Turmeric powder- 1/2 tsp
- Garam masala - 1 tsp
- Black Pepper - 1 tsp
- Ginger Paste - 2 tsp
- Garlic Paste - 3 tsp
- Green chili paste - 1 tsp
- Chopped Cilantro for garnishing.
- Salt - as per taste
- Oil - 1/2 cup

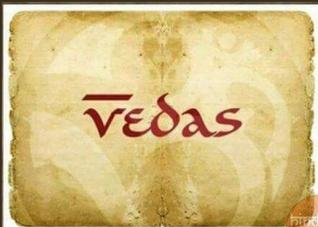

Directions:

Take 1/2 cup oil in a Kadai. Add Onion, whole green chillies & curry leaves. Mix well till onion is slightly pink. Add Kheema. Stir well. Add ginger, garlic and green chili paste. Add salt & turmeric. Keep stirring. Increase the flame to medium and add coriander powder, red chilli powder, cumin powder and stir for a minute. Add 3 tomatoes, garam masala, pepper powder. Cook till tomatoes are well done. Add 1/2 cup water. Cover it and keep on low flame for 30 minutes. Increase the heat and dry the water. Garnish with cilantro and green chillies.

Did you know ?

The Vedas were preserved for more than 5,000 years without the help of printing technology. This was done by reciting and memorizing all the hymns through Guru-Shishya tradition.
